TURKEY MAKES OVERTURES FOR PEACE FOE'S BELGIAN LINE IS SMASHED BACK

GERMANY TO AWAIT FULL ARMISTICE CONDITIONS

British and French Envoys Set Porte's Offer Which Includes Virtual Surrender

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Turkish minister to Switzerland has handed the British and French ministers to that country an offer of peace virtually amounting to surrender, according to a despatch to the Daily Mail.

ZURICH, Oct. 26.—Prince Frederick Lobkowitz and Baron Nadher, who represent the strongest anti-German tendencies at Vienna, have left that city for Switzerland charged with a mission about which no details are given, according to the Neuste Journal of Vienna.

Real Seriousness of Situation for Teutons Is Revealed by Their Decision to Delay Reply to Note Until Allies Act

REBELLION IS NEAR THROUGHOUT EMPIRE

Pan-Germans Are Making Vain Appeals to Fight Till Death, But People Are in No Mood to Carry On War

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—That the German war cabinet recognizes the serious situation confronting its armies is best indicated, officials said today, by the decision of that body to await the decision of the allies on the armistice question before replying to President Wilson's note. It was believed that it will have to wait.

The military and naval chiefs of the United States and the entente already are in conference in France. They have had before them the tentative program passed upon by the Versailles war council and the British admiralty authorities.

This program will materially strengthen the officials here, believe, before it is sent to the allied plenipotentiaries for approval and transmission to President Wilson, who will, in turn, pass it back to Germany.

It will be in Berlin, unless some unexpected obstacle presents itself, not later than the end of next week.

AGITATION CONTINUES.

REBELLION IN GERMANY.

Meanwhile the internal political situation within Germany constantly grows more critical. The demand for the immediate abdication of the kaiser, favored by the extreme Socialists, is being voiced from every quarter of the empire. So far there has been no notice taken of this "less majestic" by the authorities.

But it is generally believed here that they will have to take steps to end this agitation and this action will precipitate a conflict that will have far-reaching effects.

The junkers and the military party are calling on all "loyal Germans" to gather around them and announce a "resistance" to the demobilization program.

THE SOCIALISTS AND THE WORKERS IN THE INDUSTRIAL CENTERS ARE PLANNING A GENERAL STRIKE TO COMPEL THE IMMEDIATE ENDING OF THE WAR UNDER THE BEST TERMS POSSIBLE. NO ONE HERE CAN FORECAST WHICH PROPOSITION WILL BE SUCCESSFUL.

BOY SCOUTS ARMED TO PREVENT UPRIISING.

The situation admittedly is charged with dynamite and the officials here, including Washington and San Francisco, are so conflicting as to be almost worthless in aiding in reaching a conclusion as to what to expect. That the authorities are extremely apprehensive of a coup d'état by the radicals is indicated by the report that they have sent the best scouts in the big industrial centers including the shipping cities and the munition manufacturing communities with machine guns and placed them under the direct command of the police authorities. These boy scouts are to aid the elderly policemen in putting down any riots that may follow the declaration of the general strike.

Diplomatic despatches reaching here today told of processions of women in some German cities who carried banners demanding peace. These despatches emphasized the great greeting that was given Dr. Karl Liebknecht, Socialist leader and former member of the Reichstag, on his release from prison, where he had been confined since 1916 on a charge of attempted treason in connection with the May day riots of 1916. He is reported to have summoned a conference of the Socialist leaders to determine a program that will force an early peace.

MILITARY UNARMED.

ON ALLIES UNARMED.

The real danger of what may develop in connection with the diplomatic situation there will be no hold up whatever in the military measures being pressed by the United States and the allies. The overseas movement of troops continues up to the average, military leaders say, despite the ravages of Spanish influenza throughout the country.

BERLIN IS READY TO HEAR ALLIED PEACE DEMANDS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The German government is not contemplating at the present time any further note to President Wilson, says an Exchange despatch from Copenhagen. It is probable that the government will make a declaration in the Reichstag to the effect that Germany is awaiting the peace conditions of the allies.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 26.—Speaking in the Reichstag on Thursday, Dr. Solf, German foreign minister, said that Spanish Minister Villa Lobar, representing Britain and Belgium, had come to the conclusion that the Belgian Peasant's League organization had visited Tournai, Valenciennes and Denain on October 18 and reported that the German military authorities had done everything in their power to relieve the condition of fugitives and residents in the bombarded towns.

Dr. Solf also said it had been reported that German officials had tried to protect the people of those cities from anarchy and plundering and efforts had been made to safeguard food supplies and save art treasures.

Only men of military age had been removed forcibly, Dr. Solf asserted, and even then exceptions had been made in the case of physicians, clergymen, priests, politicians and those employed in supplying food.

Referring to questions asked on the previous day he said the government repudiated any doubt of its honest intention to carry out the principles laid down by President Wilson.

"Having, in replying to the President, taken its stand on his messages, the government is resolved to do all it can to secure the safety of Alsace-Lorraine, it is clear, as they were expressly mentioned among President Wilson's fourteen points, that we agree to regulation of these questions. Having accepted Wilson's program as a basis for peace, we shall loyally fulfill the program in all directions and at all points."

Mooney Appeal Is Filed in Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—A review of the case of Thomas J. Mooney of San Francisco was asked today in a petition filed by counsel for Mooney with the United States Supreme Court. Mooney is under sentence of death for murder in connection with an explosion which occurred during a "preparedness" parade.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The preparedness parade day bomb condemned the trial and called on the calendar of Superior Judge Geo. H. Cabaniss this morning and concluded until November 9 to be sat.

A resolution unanimously adopted at the recent convention of the California Federation of Labor, San Diego, requesting that such steps be taken as may be necessary to obtain a new trial was forwarded to the national war labor board in conjunction with a critique by Secretary Charles Schreiber today.

The resolution and critique was that new evidence of deliberate fraud and perjury has been brought out which tends to corroborate the defense of Dr. J. Mooney and the other defendants.

MOONEY'S DEFENSE.

THEIR WOLF, writing in the Tribune of Berlin, expresses great disappointment. He says it always has been a principle of international law not to interfere with the internal problems of other nations.

President Wilson recognized this, continues, in his Mexican speech in 1916, but now, Herr Wolff declared, this has been forgotten. He added:

"The peace which the President

Increase in Express Rates Is Opposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The Interstate Commerce Commission approved today the proposed increases in express rates. It suggests a change of contract with the railroad administration to give the express companies more of the transportation charge.

NEW FLANDERS DRIVE CUTS ENEMY LINE

ZEERUGGE WRECKED BY ROUTED HUNS

By JOHN T. PARKERSON,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY ON THE WESTERN BATTLEFRONT, Oct. 26.—Picture Coney Island in ruins and deserted and one gets an idea of what Zeebrugge, until recently one of the most important German submarine bases, looks like.

The famous Zeebrugge lighthouse still stands, its lantern and trolley lights have been wrecked.

The harbor is filled with gashly blackened hulks of British destroyers at the entrance of the canal. The waterway was completely stopped up.

The surrounding country, covered with oily water and pitted with shell holes, is covered with twisted wire and trenches. Here and there are great gun emplacements and concrete "pillboxes" (cement blockhouses) with the walls ten feet thick.

Off the port is the famous mole where a British submarine was filled with explosives and sunk earlier in the war.

(The mole is a seawall which was built to prevent the Zeebrugge port from filling with sand.)

The British were in sight when I entered Zeebrugge. Two or three Belgian peasants with pitchforks on their backs returning to their homes, and six priests who were intent upon the examination of some wrecked buildings.

Stripping every factory in the city, the Germans carried off all models and designs and the accounts of the various companies were removed. Then municipal authorities ask that an allied or neutral commission visit the city soon to establish the falsity of the statement made by Dr. Solt, the German foreign minister, that the city was destroyed by shells from the allied guns. Solt, it is now known, had only established that German depredations were actuated by a determination to crush the economic life of France.

ITALIANS HOPE FOR AID OF U. S.

KING ALBERT OF BELGIUM. King Albert of Belgium was forced for four long years to stand by and see the country of which he is the head devastated by the Germans. Now the Germans are being driven out of Belgium and Belgian soldiers are aiding in routing them.

FOUR U. S. FLYERS ROUT 7 FOKKERS

By NEWTON C. PARKE, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 26.—Lieutenants Charles E. Wright of Brooklyn, Oscar H. Jude of New York, Ralph Hartman, Catawissa, Pa., and Harold Folmer of Selins Grove, Pa., were engaged by seven German Fokker airplanes while machine gunning boche positions north of Verdun in conjunction with other attacks on the sector. The engagement took place over Fontaines. One of the Fokkers was brought down in flames. The American aviators returned safely.

Lieutenant Martinus Stenseth of Twin Valley, Minn., brought down another German machine in the same sector.

Doughboy Slang English Puzzle

LONDON, Oct. 26.—"Which is the nearest suds artist," an American soldier asked a policeman at Waterloo station. The bobbie stared.

"I mean a soap merchant," And still he stared.

"He wants a place where they'll pass a barbershop with his dial," explained a man with a barrow.

Having assimilated the English interpretation of the Doughboy's "United States," the bobbie directed him to the nearest barber shop.

I. W. W. Members to Fight in Courts

SPAKANE, Wash., Oct. 26.—Suit to restrain city, county and government officials from interfering with the establishment of an Industrial Workers of the World headquarters here was filed in the United States district court here on behalf of 28 alleged members of the organization held in the county jail here on various charges. They alleged maintenance of a headquarters is necessary to collect funds for their defense.

The order will be in effect for an indefinite period and is effective immediately.

WAR MARVEL EACH DAY AT BAY POINT

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BAY POINT, Cal., Oct. 25.—Ship-builders' epic efforts to help win the war paid out in sharp relief where the Pacific Coast Building Company in ten months has built a yard with four ways on which are four steel vessels soon to be launched in fresh water, a dozen miles inland. Special trials daily carry workmen eighty miles to and from their homes in the bay cities around San Francisco. The plant of Clyde is rising out of green fields to house the workers. The shipyards are being doubled in size. Bay Point, a railroad junction point, which watched the shipyards grow from bare ground since January, now sees the one plane harbor several times more workers than the town.

The plant is situated near the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, and the wide stream that flows past the plant remains fresh until it reaches the Carquinez straits, ten miles to the west where it mixes with the tide waters of San Francisco Bay.

ROMANCE OF WAR.

The tale of the building of ship-holes is an historic romance of war industry. The ship epic is worked out in the main of a half century for "steel" since the engine units go into place through gaping hatches, and in an incredibly short time the product of the plant becomes a "ship of the line" in America's merchant fleet.

The milling and rolling of the ship parts fairly fly into place here, such is the array of aerials and great movable Gantley cranes. At the jetties out dock a tackle company in the main of a half century for "steel" since the engine units go into place through gaping hatches, and in an incredibly short time the product of the plant becomes a "ship of the line" in America's merchant fleet.

The milling and rolling of the ship parts are big, outstanding features of the plant, and the aerials are kept coming in a stream from the big mold loft and are outlined on the steel plates. Every rivet hole is marked and the holes punched. Then the plates are cut to form and "knuckled" to meet the curves fore and aft.

MADE OF WOOD.

The templates are made of wood and a "set" represents the hull of a ship. A "set" usually costs five dollars and must then be discarded for the wood to be put to some other use.

After the milling process the plates and parts are taken to the "platelage" where they await the aerials that will carry them into place in the hull. When they reach the hull they are bolted into position until the riveters are ready to weld them in as a part of the hull.

If Longfellow were to visit this plant he would find his "Village Smithy" has been given a hammer with a 2,000 pound blow and a driving power that comes from a hissing boiler instead of a pair of knotty arms. In this shop all of the smaller parts, such as railings, marine spikes are fashioned from blocks of steel and iron.

AIR SUPPLY.

Two big compressors supply all of the air needed for the riveters' hammers and the varied uses to which compressed air is put at a big ship plant. The company plans to put in two more of these compressors, so it can keep ship under construction in eight sets of ways. Four are in operation now.

At one corner of the plant, removed from the roar and bustle, is the draughting room. Men and women work here preparing the blue prints for the 9,500 ton monsters that the plant is turning out.

The new American Company is building against the line when America is expected to take a permanent place as the leader of the world in merchant marine. The

WILSON PLEA IS SCORED BY SENATORS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Republican leaders in Congress have issued a reply to President Wilson's plea that a Democratic House and Senate be elected. The statement follows:

Some time ago the President said "politics is adjourned." Now, in the closing days of the campaign—delayed by the united efforts of all parties for the Liberty loan—now, when all public meetings have been given up owing to the influenza epidemic, the president sends out a direct appeal calling upon his countrymen to vote for Democrats because they are Democrats, without any reference to whether such Democrats have been or are in favor of war measures and have at war records which deserve credit.

The voters of Michigan, to take up a single example, are called upon to support Mr. Henry Ford—notorious for his advocacy of peace at any price, for his contemptuous allusions to the flag, for the exemption of his son from military service, on the sole ground that he is blindly supporting the President. The President is quite ready to admit that Republicans are loyal enough to fight and die, as they are doing by the thousands; loyal enough to take up great loans and pay enormous taxes; loyal enough to furnish important men at no salary on some of the most responsible posts in Washington. But they are not loyal enough, in the President's opinion, to be trusted with any share in the government of the country or legislation for it.

SOME RESULTS.

If the Republican party controls the House we can put out some of the things they will do. They will replace Mr. Dent of Alabama at the head of the Military Affairs Committee with Mr. Julius Kahn, to whom the administration was obliged to turn for assistance to take charge of and carry the first draft bill against the opposition's opposition. They will put a Republican at the head of the Ways and Means Committee, as leader of the House, instead of Mr. Kitchin of North Carolina, who voted against the war. They will give the country a speaker who did not oppose and would never oppose, as Speaker Champ Clark did, the "thin as precious little difference between a conscript and a conscientious objector." They do, and they know it, that the Republicans have a majority in Congress, the war will be pressed with greater vigor than ever before. They are quite aware that the power of the Senate is equal to that of the President in the consummation of peace by treaty. They will know that the Republican party stands for a vigorous peace and the overthrow of Prussian militarism. That knowledge will not depress the spirit of our allies or encourage the government of Germany.

The Republican party believes that the question of surrender is the question of surrender to the generals and to the armies in the field. When they report Germany has laid down her arms the United States and the allies should then impose their terms. With that knowledge the Republicans will not depress the spirit of our allies or encourage the government of Germany.

The Republican party believes that the question of surrender is the question of surrender to the generals and to the armies in the field. When they report Germany has laid down her arms the United States and the allies should then impose their terms. With that knowledge the Republicans will not depress the spirit of our allies or encourage the government of Germany.

There are some domestic questions where we should undoubtedly differ from the course pursued by the administration. We should not for example fix a price on the farmer's wheat, or leave the planter's cotton untouched. Another domestic question in which the Republican party believes thoroughly is economic preparation for the coming of peace, and they are clearly of the opinion that the Congress of the United States should not be excluded from that great task.

This is not the president's personal war. This is not the war of Congress. It is not the war of the Democratic or the Republican party. It is the war of the American people. It is more. It is the war of the United States, of the allied powers, of the civilized world against the barbarism of Germany. In this great burden and responsibility the Republican party representing more than half the citizenship of the country demands its rightful share. If the Republican party is entrusted with power in either of both houses they will do everything possible to drive forward the war and hasten the day of victory. The President speaks of the necessity of telling the plain truth. That the Republican party in control of Congress would do for them no friends to shield. And they will do more. They will give all the money to the last dollar necessary to sustain our naval and our fleets, but they will check the waste now going on of the money given by the most generous people on the face of the earth.

MID-EUROPEAN SESSION ENDS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—With all its aims clearly defined, the conference of the Democratic Mid-European Union, which have been going on in Independence Hall, have come to an end, and their literary will be proclaimed here for these small oppressed nations, whose delegates declare there must be an absolute freedom for all the races therein.

That nothing short of an absolute plebiscite can be accepted for the new states was declared today by Professor Masaryk, president of the council, who said there must be a vital minority representation, one that must be granted unrestricted rights.

Discussion of boundaries caused some discord among the delegates today and led to heated arguments and the threat of a Jugo-Slav delegate to withdraw from the conference, after he had torn to shreds a small map showing the location of each nation's territory.

More interest was created by the arrival today of a delegate from Jerusalem, representing the Jews in Palestine.

Telegrams were read from various racial groups in this country congratulating the council on the great work it is doing.

Legal Fray Is Waged Over Child

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 26.—Five-year-old Helen Anthony Hawkins, whose mother, Mrs. Ethyl A. Hawkin, was recently killed in an automobile accident near Tucson, Ariz., was the chief figure in a court battle here. The father of the child, George W. Hawkins of the New York City, from whom the little girl's mother was divorced in Arizona, March 22, 1917, is seeking to gain custody of the child on a habeas corpus proceeding. The child's grandmother, Mrs. T. and Minnie McRitt of Petaluma, who never leave the child, are resisting upon the ground that Hawkins is not a fit person to have the custody of his daughter.

Through Attorney Samuel Rosenheim of San Francisco, the Merritts of Petaluma filed an answer to the writ of habeas corpus, and at the United War Work Campaign which is to be waged in Alameda county during the week of November 1 to 18.

Allied together in the campaign will be seven different organizations—the War Camp Community Service, the U. S. Army, the Jewish Welfare Board, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. W. C. A., the American Library Association and the Salvation Army—and it will be in depicting the splendid war work which they are doing that the efforts of the score of great artists will be shown.

In their answer to the writ of habeas corpus, the Merritts alleged that Mrs. Hawkins had been granted a divorce from Hawkins on the ground of extreme infidelity and that she had been awarded the custody of their child. It was charged that Hawkins had been guilty of improper conduct with other women before the divorce and that it was this that caused Mrs. Hawkins to sue for divorce.

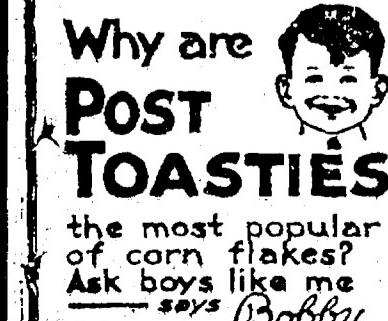

After the death of Mrs. Hawkins her body was taken to Petaluma for interment. The little girl was also taken to her parents, although her father had asked that she be kept in Arizona until his arrival there from New York.

Woman's Army Rushes to Aid Of Afflicted

Worshippers to Meet Outdoors Only in Masks

By GEORGE G. BORDWELL.

There was an entertainment at the Country Club that afternoon at which all adult Arcadians was present. When Edith came in there were many whispered conferences, of which she was the subject. She was greatly liked personally. But Arcadia did not approve of her partnership with an ex-baritone, nor her efforts to get them all to lend sanction by attending the house-warming at the inn. The whole world outside Arcadia gave way to a distinguished attorney who Edith mounted the platform in the main hall and without preliminaries told the Arcadians of Cleary's announcement.

"What is more?" she cried, "do not blame him, if, after he has tried his best to make a success of his hotel along lines that would make it a pride to us all, he should turn against us? We would not encourage him in his honesty and wholeness, self-meeting and kindly. If we exclude him, if we refuse him a chance, there are others who will be only too glad to take our place—to our dismay!"

"If we do not accept his well-meant offer, I can see a crowd of city rotarians come shrieking down to Arcadia in their automobiles for the weekend. I can see that taking in Arcadia, we will be compelled to give up our postponement of a pretty social affair which the guest of honor was to have with Mrs. Mary Collins Jordan (Linda Wright), who is visiting here from the East."

WOMAN'S STORY HOLDS AUTOIST

Los Angeles, Oct. 26.—Before Judge W. A. Remond in the Venice police court, Albert H. Morgan, manager and secretary of the Venice Heights fruit Growers Association, who was charged on a charge preferred against him by Mrs. Orville P. Coen of 1101 Santa Fe street, this city. He was held for trial in the Superior Court in the sum of $5000 bail. Mrs. Coen told her story in court of the meeting of Morgan in this city. At that time, she was living with her husband at 12 Brooks Avenue, Venice. Subsequently, she said, he suddenly appeared at her Brooks Avenue apartments and at his request she accompanied him for an automobile ride to the Santa Monica mountains.

Services not lasting over 30 minutes will be permitted in the open air, provided all participants wear gauze masks. By "all" he means, to be taken literally, he says.

This order was issued after a careful canvass of the situation and Commissioner Morse desires that it be fully understood that no modification of any kind will be made unless the situation clears up and the health officer sees fit to act accordingly.

Uncle Wiggily And the Button Bag

(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Who's the rag bag?" asked Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, as he came down stairs in his coat and vest. "It's morning again," he said, "and I am going to the department of health for the control of congestion. I am going to see the doctor again."

There was an outraged silence as Edith finished, a little flushed and breathless. At first the air seemed charged with resentment against her. Then her listeners realized the fault would not be hers but that of the author of the story.

A REGRETTABLE ACT.

President Wilson's address to the voters of the country yesterday urging them to vote for the return of a Democratic majority in both houses of the Congress will be the occasion of pained regret in a great many circles not marked by lines of political partisanship. It will disappoint those who took at its face value the declaration of the President of an earlier date that politics is adjourned, as it will those who had hoped the war would not be dragged into politics or be utilized for the making of partisan thunder at election time.

There will be a vast number of intelligent and patriotic citizens who will be unable to understand the President's conclusion that the return of a Republican majority to either house of Congress will be interpreted as a repudiation of his leadership. They cannot find confirmation of this fear in the record of the minority party in Congress. And being unable to find a soundly-based motive for the President's view, they will deeply regret that the chief executive has made what appears to be a wide digression from the facts.

There has been no partisan division in Congress nor in the nation with regard to the war. This has not been, nor is it now, a political party's war. It is the war of the people of the United States, as the magnificent record of military and financial effort so vividly shows. In all legislative projects in the Congress it has been the Republican minority and not the Democratic majority that has assured the President of compliance with every request he made. Our Allies across the Atlantic know full well that the war has not been a partisan effort nor an administration effort. The enemy knows it, and that has meant his great discomfiture.

The President has not dealt considerately with those in and out of Congress who have consistently held to the view that the administration must be supported in all its war plans and efforts, regardless of political antecedents. Knowing the persons and the organization with which they had to deal, those of what was once the political opposition of the President did not look for expressions of gratitude as their reward, but, on the other hand, they hoped their service to the nation would not be denied for the sake of partisan advantage.

Of those members of Congress who have opposed the Democratic administration and have persisted in tactics of obstruction, the President will find by far the largest number in his own party. When the obstructionist and anti-war men of the military affairs committee tried to block the President's legislative projects, essential as they were to the national interests, it was a Republican, Mr. Kuhn of California, who sprang to the President's side and showed the Democrats of the House how to serve their country. When the petty provincial and incompetent Kiuchi of the House ways and means committee has wasted valuable weeks and months in preparing foolish and impractical devices for raising revenue, it has been Republicans who have remodeled the measures until they conformed to the administration's wishes.

When the President pleaded for the enactment of what he termed a vital measure for democracy—the woman suffrage amendment—it was Democrats that ignored him, and not the Republican minority.

In every war measure the President has had the undivided support of the minority in Congress. Aside from war measures nothing else has counted. What criticism of the administration that has been uttered is insignificant compared to the volumes justified but left unsaid out of a spirit of friendly cooperation with the President. Does the President plead for those who have been disloyal to the country and opponents of the administration merely because they are Democrats?

President Wilson may have good reasons for his amazing statement, but they do not appear in the text of that document. He has invited censure and he will find that it comes not alone from the ranks of Republicans.

In the beginning of its existence the federal food administration justified itself partly on the promise that it would control the middlemen and prevent profiteering by market speculators. The present quotation of oranges is presented to its attention. Yesterday oranges were quoted to the road of "mutual interests."

wholesale at $11 to $13 per box. Sales have been made during the last few days at $15 per box. Oranges are in great demand as food for influenza victims. They have been increased in price almost over night by from $5 to $7.50 per box. No reasons of increased cost of production or distribution have been advanced. Merely the antiquated theory of supply and demand is invoked and an arbitrary profiteering boost ordered by the growing and marketing interests. Meanwhile the consumer must pay 10 cents for a good orange.

CONTRACTS AND THE SENATE.

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels has put aside his official duties in these strenuous times long enough to urge the election to the United States Senate of Mr. Henry Ford, the Michigan pacifist who financed the cruise of the ship Oskar to pro-German capitals of Scandinavia. Mr. Daniels' main argument is that Mr. Ford is building the "Eagle" type of submarine chasers.

Mr. Daniels, so far as is known, has outdistanced all his administration colleagues in efforts to plunge the war into politics. Mr. Ford's contracts with the government amount to many millions of dollars. According to Mr. Daniels that entitles him to a seat in the Senate.

There are other men and concerns than Mr. Ford and his automobile factory who are furnishing the government war equipment and supplies. Some of them have bigger contracts than Mr. Ford. A great many of them are better qualified as statesmen and backed by a more consistent record of public service. But should every government contractor be sent to the Senate or the House of Representatives?

It is possible, though not certain, that the people would not be pleased with such a sorry spectacle of government.

THE NEW ERA.

In addressing recently a gathering of several hundred men and women interested in international affairs in the Pacific basin, Consul General Ohta of Japan, who has just arrived at his new post in San Francisco, expressed the faith of many persons on both sides of the Pacific when he said:

"The countries bordering upon the Pacific Ocean seem with undeveloped possibilities, and those possibilities are for you and me. The great ocean of the West is destined to become the highway of a commerce and the medium of such exchanges as the world has never known. Japan on one side and California on the other will be arteries through which these currents will flow."

Fulfillment of this and all similar prophecies of the past are now almost in sight. America is equipping herself to handle such of the maritime commerce of the world as may be her rightful share. She is not planning to monopolize markets, to engage in destructive competition, to erect barriers around any zones considered special spheres of opportunity. But she must and surely will plan to enter, on an equitable basis with other nations, all markets with her wares and buy in foreign marts what she needs. She must and surely will devote herself to removing any artificial economic barriers and to overcoming natural barriers.

On this side the Pacific lies all of the United States back of California. On the other side lies Japan, China and the Philippines. A great process of augmenting the production facilities of China is now going out. Railroads, mines, factories, modern methods, are being brought into operation. They will raise the standard of living of the Chinese and increase their demands for commodities from abroad. Back of Japan lies Siberia, Manchuria and Mongolia, a great area of potential production capable of holding several times the present population.

Consul General Ohta was right when he said Japan and California will be arteries through which the unprecedented exchanges of commerce will flow. Three of the busiest ports in the Pacific are now Japanese ports. The port of San Francisco Bay is competing for first honors in Pacific maritime business and ought soon to become uncontestedly the most important port. Mr. Ohta was also right when, after recalling the close and effective association of Japan and the United States in the war, he said:

"We will join hands in works of peace as well as in those of war. We will dedicate ourselves to the noble task of building up mutual interests which shall embrace not only the material things of commerce and trade, but cover every field of social, moral and intellectual endeavor. Already we have learned that our mutual interests far outweigh our conflicting interests and that every dictate of wisdom counsels us to get together in the spirit of common helpfulness."

Herein is given the keynote of a policy which it seems must of necessity be followed by Japan and America in the Pacific. The foundation for mutual interests is so big and broad and far-reaching that conflicting details ought to vanish in the light of truth and understanding. There must be mutual forbearance and yielding. In the past much has been sought with a pertinacity that might have been tempered; much has been denied with a vehemence that might have been toned down. Jingoism and ill-advised and criminal propagandists have thrust themselves in the way of mutual understanding.

Happily knowledge has been one of the major compensations of the war. In the future neither the people of Japan or the United States ought to let themselves be disturbed by forms. They will seek for the truth of things along the road of "mutual interests."

NOTES and COMMENT

"Break with the Germans and give us our own king!" cries Count Karolyi, the Hungarian. "Equal rights is an old idea of the Hungarians," replies the premier. Must be unimpressive stuff to a people who have been experiencing the "old idea" for upwards of three-quarters of a century.

The apprehension of the ally soldiers over the possibility of an armistice being declared must be considerable. The Americans at least want to get a whack at the Hun on his own premises, and no doubt French and Belgians want to get beyond the Rhine to show them how it has been going for more than four years.

"Auto damaged by hitting negro's head." It seems that autos have their perils as well as pedestrians.

Director-General Melodoo's appeal to the public not to clutter up railway trains by traveling did not have half the effect in restraining the travel propensity that the epidemic has had.

that it required ordinances to make mask-wearing universal and thus effective was due to the undoubtedly fact that masks do not add to the personal appearance. Also that American trait of being willing to take a chance comes in.

Accurate and appropriate representation in the cartoons of the Kaiser—with his hands raised, expressive of surprise and consternation, but always dripping with blood.

If it deserved compassion the expression, "Poor Austria!" might be owned. Added to troubles of its own it is about to be ruthlessly deserted by its ally.

Something has been said of the loss of revenue from the closing of the theaters, but nothing as to the matter of rent of theatrical places. Who is to lose it would seem to be a problem.

The Kaiser's goat has been rather difficult to round up, but the effort headed by Pooh and counseled by President Wilson is going to get it.

The idea of getting the allies at loggerheads, to the German understanding may have seemed deep and unfathomable, but it was really quite apparent and didn't work.

There is no doubt now of the superiority of the allied air forces, both as to equipment and intrepidity.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Extracting diseased teeth as a cure for insanity is advocated by a New Jersey physician. That's all right. What we object to is treating the whole wide world as if it were a lunatic asylum. It sometimes seems as if a treatment should be sought for doctors with this mania for jerking out teeth, before we become a nation of gummers.—Stockton Record.

Every condition confirms the belief that Yolo county will produce 700,000 sacks of rice this present season. Of the 10,000 acres contracted by the Yolo Water and Power Company under instructions of the food administration, 2000 acres will prove highly productive. Estimating the various areas supplied by water from pumps and irrigation from the Sacramento river, it is said that approximately 10,000 acres more are in the same category.—Woodland Mail.

The land settlement plan that has been so auspiciously opened in California with the project at Durham half a dozen miles south of here bids fair to develop into a wide national scheme of enormous magnitude. RESCUED FROM THE HORROR OF HUN SLAVERY

DEATH ABROAD TONIGHT

Unnumbered parents all this night are kneeling With whispered prayers in agonized appealing.

That God shall put aside the cup of sorrow And save their loved ones for the coming morrow

Theorrow that may find them hurn past healing.

Unnumbered heads on tear-wet pillows lying.

Pure souls departing with the last faint sighing.

Far happier they than those they leave behind them

To hold the faith—through bitter tears—that blind them

That death is but a passing, not sheer dying.

TO DENMARK.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

You mention the different countries that German has robbed and plundered which, before peace can be concluded, she must give up. That is only a just demand or condition. But why is not Silesia mentioned among them? We know that Germany and Austria in the 60's, robbed Denmark of these provinces. Would you direct your attention to this item.

SIX SONS IN SERVICE.

No better challenge to the Kaiser and his hordes of Huns that America's cause is one of democracy versus autocracy than the illuminating fact that the governor of a great commonwealth finds pride in giving his six sons to the fight for liberty. In this particular the war record of Governor Richard Irvine Manning of South Carolina is without a parallel in the United States.

AT EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.

The emergency hospital at the Municipal Auditorium today reported a total of 200 cases under treatment and seven deaths, three boys and two girls, during the night, in addition to the five total since the opening of the hospital.

The significant feature of last night's arrivals, according to Dr. S. H. Buteau, in charge of the hospital, was that 50 per cent of the arrivals were children. However, the majority of patients have been between 20 and 45 years of age. Dr. Buteau says that in many epidemics it has been noted that after first affecting the ages most susceptible the infection spreads first to persons younger and then older than the first ages attacked. This however, he says, is a theory based on deduction only and that it is not a fact that the public need be alarmed over. He believes that the general use of the masks will show results within the next few days.

NEED TRAINED NURSES.

The principal need in the emergency hospital is trained nurses, according to Dr. Buteau. Many volunteer workers are registered, there are plenty of supplies and beds on hand, and Dr. Buteau says that there is no doubt that the hospital can now fully cope with the situation. Tomorrow at 11 o'clock at the municipal auditorium, teachers' meeting will be held, when school teachers, out of employment since the closing of the schools, will volunteer their services to care for influenza patients.

The stage women of Oakland, since the closing of the theaters, have volunteered through the Red Cross. Jane O'Rourke is in charge of the registrations at the Auditorium hospital, with several other performers aiding her, and Marta Golden, another stage star, is heading a force of actresses acting as volunteer nurses in homes where they are needed.

Headquarters Red Cross Committee on Influenza Epidemic October 26, 1918.

To all school teachers of the Oakland public schools: The municipal hospital has been depending for its nurses' aids on unorganized, but willing, volunteer help.

The seriousness of the situation at the present time requires additional assistance.

Realizing that the school teachers are organized and have had first aid training, we are calling upon you to attend a meeting at the auditorium theater on Sunday, October 27, at 11 a.m., for the purpose of organizing and IMMEDIATELY assuming the duties of nurses' aids at the municipal hospital.

Ralph C. Young Is Victim of Influenza

News of the recent death and burial of Ralph C. Young, 21, of the Jackson Sedition Case, which was received in this city by friends of the young man. Several years prior to his enlistment with the naval reserves, Young had occupied the position of a department manager in the store of Taft & Pennoyer. He is the first employee of the firm to lose his life in the service of his country.

When the young man first joined the naval reserves he went to San Pedro, but later was transferred to Mare Island, where he contracted the fatal malady. He was a member of the Mutual Aid Association, the first local unit to be organized. But a short time ago young visited friends in Oakland.

FLU SCOURGE HEIGHT IS NOT YET REACHED: ELLA FLAGG YOUNG, NOTED EDUCATOR, DIES

With approximately 100,000 cases of Spanish influenza reported in the three coast states and hundreds more being reported hourly in the larger cities the epidemic has not yet reached its crest, according to statistics available today.

The number of deaths is variously estimated in Washington, Oregon and California between 2,000 and 3,000. Exact figures are not available.

Health authorities in most of the coast cities look for a slight increase in the number of cases, although they agree that the situation looks better today than it has for the last week.

With 600 new cases reported in San Francisco up to 10 o'clock this morning, San Francisco's total number of cases today was expected to pass the 13,000 mark. Eleven deaths were reported here in two cases today. Health Officer Hassler said the epidemic was being controlled through the use of the flu masks.

The number of cases in Seattle was on the increase today. The total number of cases has reached 6,798 with 208 deaths.

Seattle reports the number of cases increasing. Eighty-four new cases were reported at Camp Lewis this morning.

The chief also reported that 41 officers were on the flu sick list—12 men from the northern division, 11 from the eastern division and 21 from the central division.

Discussing the flu situation this morning, Chief Nedderman, who has just recovered from a severe attack of the disease, said: "I would like to call the attention of the public to the most excellent work being done by the prisoners, both men and women, who volunteered from the city jail and who are now working at the temporary hospital working like Trojans to help the unfortunate victims of the flu."

"I am indeed glad to say that when this epidemic is over I shall ask that all of those prisoners be released on parole, for I believe they have done and are doing a splendid work which shows that after all they are good boys.

Christian swish a strong dash of fine Christian manhood and womanhood still active in their beings in spite of the fact that they have had to break the rules of the law."

Close Muffler or Take Consequences

Motorcycle riders who leave their mufflers open will hereafter be dealt with severely by the police authorities. Sergeant J. A. Wallman, in charge of special agents of plain clothes officers, last night arrested two violators of the law.

The noise made by these persons has been a source of great hardship to the many influenza patients and as a result the physicians complained to the police authorities, who at once made arrangements to suppress the nuisance.

A flu mask with a door in it for smokers, fad

A flu mask with a door in it! That's the latest.

It's not exactly a door, either, but a slot of just big enough to shove the face through—but it's better business 100 per cent at the Hotel Oakland cigar stand and now guests galore are clamoring for the masks.

Miss Corinne Harrington, fair daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, has come to the rescue of the smokers, which have completely overwhelmed the cigar stand.

The street department this morning transferred the chain gang from its regular work to the cemetery to aid in digging the graves. There are about twenty men on the gang at this time.

Chain Gang Sent to Aid Grave Diggers

St. Mary's Catholic cemetery today appealed to the city for aid in the digging of graves for the large number of influenza patients, which have completely overwhelmed the cemetery's grave-digging force.

The street department this morning transferred the chain gang from its regular work to the cemetery to aid in digging the graves. There are about twenty men on the gang at this time.

Cigar Stores Are Miffed at Masks

"Cigar stores will be hard hit from now until the 'flu' epidemic is checked to the gauge mask relegated to the 'action,'" said one of the managers.

The gauge mask does not permit the use of cigars, cigarettes or pipes and even the habitual tobacco chewer would be forced to forego his usual 'chew of terbacy,' for with the 'flu' mask covering his visage he cannot very well engage in the pastime.

Omit Friday Fast During Flu Epidemic

Archbishop Hanna has served notice that so long as the epidemic of Spanish influenza existed he desired to relieve every one in the archdiocese of the obligation of abstaining from meat on Friday. While the communists are fighting the epidemic the archbishop wishes all to have the utmost freedom in the matter of meals, as plenty of nutritious food is the chief safeguard against the spread of the disease.

3 Sedition Cases on Court Calendar

Vincent Maluse, convicted of violating the Jackson sedition ordinance, will be sentenced October 30 by Judge Mortimer Smith. Frank S. Strode, charged with violating the same law, will appear for trial October 28, and Joseph Campbell, also convicted under this ordinance, will be sentenced October 30.

Doctors and Nurses Are First Vaccinated

Doctors and nurses at the Emergency Influenza Hospital at the Auditorium were vaccinated today with the first of the new anti-influenza vaccine which was received by Dr. W. H. Kellogg, city sanitarian, from the University of California. As soon as more comes it will be used by local physicians in regular cases. The supply is still very limited.

David Hannan Not Victim of Epidemic

The name of David Hannan, an aged man who died at the Kings Daughters' Home Wednesday, was included in the list of those dying from influenza by mistake. His name was omitted from the list and the cause of Hannan's death was given as influenza. He died of a chronic disease of long standing. So far there has been no case of influenza at the Kings Daughters' Home.

Berkeley Flu Cases Show Gain Workers Are Needed in Alameda

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—With 1152 cases reported to date, Berkeley's influenza record took a sudden jump today as the result of 194 new cases reported to the health authorities. The figure is the largest number of new patients reported to the Alameda health office to date. Physicians are so busy they are unable to make all of the reports daily. No alarm is felt, however, at the sudden increase and conditions are declared to be no worse than earlier in the week.

Harvey Roger Allen, student at the University of California, succumbed to pneumonia last night, following a week's illness of influenza. Allen's mother, Mrs. Chrysula Allen, wife of a rancher of Madera, arrived yesterday in time to see her son before he passed away. Allen was 67 years of age. The body will be shipped to Madera.

Mrs. Agnes M. Frizzel, 37 years old, residing in Albany, also succumbed last evening. Mrs. Frizzel, who was stricken with the disease last week, arose from her sick bed to nurse neighbors also afflicted and contracted pneumonia. She formerly resided in Lone, Amador county.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Whether the influenza has reached the crest of its wave in Alameda is undetermined today, largely owing to lack of reports from overworked physicians who are seeing night and day without pausing to send reports to the health board.

She was chosen superintendent of the public schools in 1909 from a list of six candidates, five of whom were men educators in the United States. She was a leader of progressive educational ideas to which she devoted more than

Fulton Wants Chanceto Make Good to Fans

He and Kid McCoy Ask for a Crack at Willie Meehan.

Heavyweight battles may feature the boxing shows to be staged in the bay cities for some time to come, with Fred Fulton and Kid McCoy now hanging about this neighborhood and throwing challenges at fat Willie Meehan, the San Francisco boy, who has gained a lot of publicity since winning a decision over Joe Gandy. They paid a short visit to San Francisco yesterday and then stepped on the rafter for Los Angeles, but Fred is expected back here a few days.

The show was as popular in the bay section as he was before his first visit here and his chances of meeting Willie Meehan or any other heavyweight look to be good. He is looking for a chance to box Meehan for any benefit, and with someone needed as attractions for the shows to be staged during the week of November 4th, it is thought that there, Fred might be considered by some promoter.

Two times Fulton appeared in San Francisco and failed to put up the bout that he had expected to carry off, but he got himself in wrong. Now Fred wants to put himself in right with the boys again, and is willing to do anything to get a chance. The Fulton is still talking about meeting Jack Dempsey in another match, and hints that it is all the truth about the bout being fixed for him. He has been told that Meehan has all his past misfortunes on his manager, Mike Collins, and says that he is not friends with him any more, although he has been told otherwise.

Kid McCoy failed to get in with Fulton, and is staying here with the hopes of getting a chance to land a few of his own ones on Willie Meehan's chin. McCoy says that it would be Willie couldn't take care of himself, and avoided punches in sparring matches, that he got puffed and gave up his stage appearance. Now he doesn't mind Meehan as a good fighter, and gets a big laugh out of himself every time he talks of the fat boy's clown actions in the ring.

Meehan, speaking for himself, thinks that Fred Fulton and Kid McCoy would make a couple of good sparring partners for the little training at San Rafael for his bout with Knockout Murphy, and has issued an invitation to both the traveling heavies to be on hand some fine afternoon during the coming week, and he will entertain them.

Hank O'Day Wants to Be Umpire in France

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Hank O'Day, veteran umpire of the National league, says he is anxious to go to France and call decisions for the American team in their baseball games. O'Day says he has heard that umpires are in particular demand back of the lines, where base ball is the chief form of recreation of the fighting men who find competent officials scarce.

I read something about the need of umpires in France, so I am going to try to get into touch with the proper authorities and see if I can't help out some way or another."

Chester Grimmett Is Stricken With "Flu"

Chester Grimmett, manager at Spalding Bros., and the man who started the first move for the organizing of an American Football Association a few weeks ago, was down with a serious attack of Spanish influenza. He has already been at his home for four days, and it is expected to be a like number of days before he will be back on the job again. William "Doc" McCormick, another of the Spalding staff, and former Coast and State league player, was down for a couple of days with the same illness, but is back on the job.

Leard's Brother Is Over in Germany

Walter Leard, a brother to Bill Leard, former Oakland second baseman and now with the Crockett club, is somewhere in Germany according to letters received by the family a few days ago. Walter writes that he and the rest of the team have the Germans setting a hot pace toward Berlin, and that he intends to follow the team to Berlin. He also writes that he finds time to read sporting pages of the papers and ways what the athletes at home are doing.

Frank Troch, of Vancouver, Wash., and O. N. Ford, of San Jose, Cal., have traveled from ocean to ocean this year to engage in trapshooting competitions.

The data collected by the forest service is to be sent to Washington.

KISSING OF GIRLS CAUSE WIVES' SUIT

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Jesse Olley Gibbs' six wives were not all in court to face him. Three were present under subpoena, unwillingly, one weeping. In the lieutenant's office.

Jesse is dashing and bold. When the police asked him if he desired protection in court—from his wives, he said if they—the police—would protect them they would turn about women from him. They did.

Wives No. 3, 5 and 6 were there, and Jesse gave a round of pleasant nods to the assembled Mrs. Gibbses. Mrs. Emma May Early Gibbs, electionist and poet, fluttered her dark eyes and sighed.

Ullina Swanberg Gibbs, who is blonde and a nurse, blushed rosily and her blue eyes sought the floor.

Rose Lynn Gibbs seemed at ease and met her face in her hand.

"It's a shame to treat him like this," said Mrs. Emma May Early Gibbs.

JESSE'S LAWYER DELAYS.

Jesse looked around the room and seemed to miss some one. Standing jauntily with his hands on his hips, he explained to Judge Barasa that his lawyer had slipped up on him.

"And I paid him $10, too," Jesse said.

"I can't stand to see him suffer so. They just drag him around—treat him like a dog," wailed Mrs. Emma May Early Gibbs, poetess.

Jesse showed he can be stern with his wives.

"I'm here," he said. "This is a court of law."

The Court blotted, annoyed, that she didn't bring him, but put her into a cell, maybe. Because of absence of the defendant's lawyer the case was continued.

"Everybody be present, too," the Judge warned, especially did he warn the wives to be on hand. Jesse smiled and said, "Thank you" to the Court.

DAUGHTER GONE, Blames Husband

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Blaming her husband, from whom she has been separated for two years, for the disappearance last Monday of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Boyle, 4244 Ellis avenue, yesterday announced she would force her husband, James Boyle, to the scene of action.

Indeed, they established such a speed record that they reached Chateauneuf some hours ahead of the American advance guard, and the most formidable machine gunners the Germans in that particular locality, while they carried out their preliminary shelling of Chateauneuf.

When orders came through for two American divisions to go forward to Chateauneuf-Thierry, the news flushed out her husband. Mrs. Schwantes disclosed she had a son, Eddie, who stores which is worth $15,000, and asked that it be preserved by an injunction restraining him from disposing of it.

Her suspicions aroused, Mrs. Mulcahy, according to her attorney, Frank Michels, discovered Mulcahy was a frequent visitor to the McNabb place.

Mr. Mulcahy said that he had once overheard Mrs. Mulcahy watching her husband while he traveled his beat in South Chicago and she saw Mrs. McNabb meet him.

Mrs. Schwantes, according to the will filed in the Circuit court, found her husband, Eddie, at Paula's, a saloon in the sporting goods store. She discharged Miss Wanda into the girl was back on the job next day, having been released by Schwantes. PERCY AND FERDIE—Imagination? Oh, No, Percy, It Was the Real Thing

MONEY CONDITION IS GREAT ISSUE

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Short covering was an important factor in the brief period of trading on the Stock Exchange today. Money restrictions again served to keep the market limited but speculative shares were up sharply and more were than standard issues.

The trend of prices was distinctly upward in the first hour, speculative issues again featuring the advance. Bethlehem and Crucible Steels averaged one point advance with Studebaker and American Smelting, while Steel rose a large fraction.

Mexican Petroleum made an extreme advance of 12 points and Royal Dutch rose 14, Porto Rico Sugar gaining 15 points on its first sale in several weeks. General Motors rose 5 points and Studebaker 3 points. Other notable features included Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Marine Preferred, Pacific Coppers, Tobaccoe, Texas Company and Peoples Gas, all gains of 1 to 3 points. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 300,000 shares.

The financial community was almost unanimous, however, in asserting that much of the recent demand for securities emanated from substantial sources, foreign and domestic.

Pessimists were enlightened by events of the week, has undoubtedly stimulated a distinct revival of investment purchases, applying with especial force to stocks of foreign origin not identified with the war group.

The inquiry for rails had its basis largely in the future satisfactory status of the railroads, which have assured dividend stability. It is in low-priced transportation that foreign interest has been most evident.

Companies in the important lines of industry have received a temporary set-back as a result of the influenza epidemic, but next week's quarterly report of the U.S. Steel Corporation is expected to show improvement in keeping with the first half of the year.

Operations in foreign exchange have become so nominal as to lose much of their former value as peace indices, but the rates of neutral European countries again favored this market.

SHIPBUILDERS THREATEN TO STRIKE NOV. 2

A walk-out that in its far-reaching effects may close every shipyard in the East Bay section, and possibly every yard on the Pacific Coast, is threatened by the action taken last night by the members of Oakland Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union at meeting in the open-air auditorium at Emeryville.

The meeting, said to have been representative of all the members of the union, voted to walk out on November 2 unless the May wage and working hours award is put in force prior to that date, or unless satisfactory word in regard to the same is issued authoritatively from Washington.

The strike vote followed a recommendation to that effect made two days before by the executive committee of the union. A similar recommendation was made at the same time by the executive committees of all of the boilermakers' unions between Seattle and San Diego.

In order for the recommendations to become effective, however, it is necessary for each union to vote. Delay in taking this vote has been experienced by reason of the prevailing epidemic of influenza.

GARBAGE ROAD IS UNDER REPAIR

Perry F. Brown, superintendent of streets, this morning announced that the city's dredger and pile driver were both busily engaged in the work of filling Fourteenth street and repairing the trestle over which the city's garbage is to be handled.

The present rush to complete the work at the earliest moment was given when the council placed the matter in the hands of Dr. F. F. Jackson, commissioners of streets, with full power to act.

Commissioner of Public Works Goberdang is cooperating and the garbage situation is being handled with the same solicitude of the city's trouble in this grave matter it promised. The garbage is now being satisfactorily cared for, according to Superintendent Brown.

Underground Chinese Dens Defy Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 26.—Faced with the assertion that two dozen lottery games are flourishing in Portland, the police today explained that Chinatown in the north end is honeycombed with tunnels and caverns, which make it practically impossible to unearth the men conducting the operations. This was the first the public knew of an underground Chinatown.

Shindyan workers, it is said, are spending their ready money on the lottery, where thousands of dollars change hands weekly. Chinatown covers an area about ten blocks square.

It soothes inflamed membranes.

PARDEE SAYS CONQUER FLU, THEN POLITICS

Placing necessity of conquering the Spanish Influenza epidemic first, but calling attention to the fact that much depends on exercising the right of suffrage in coming election, Dr. George C. Pardee, federal government vice-president of the State Central Committee, has issued the following statement which is sent out by the Alameda County Republican Central Committee:

"The first thing every citizen must think about at this time is to free our state from influenza. To this we say, 'Wear your mask and do all that your health authorities require of you. Patriotism begins right at home, your own home. If you want to be careless of your own life at least do not help to murder anybody else. Truly awful is the thought that there are many of us alive today who may not vote for the suffrage election but the number will be materially reduced if you do your duty as a citizen. You may have a kick against wearing a mask, we've all got kicks against something or other, but if you enjoy good health and are confident of your immunity from disease, thank God for it and prove your gratitude by using the common sense that the same good God has given you. And do not forget that he laughs best who laughs last.'

FOR UNIFIED EFFORTS.
After life and health, a long way after, yet of supreme importance comes the question of our choice of those who shall represent the public welfare. Within days hence the people of this state must choose a leader. Here again we face a problem far greater than any merely state issue. Our country now demanding the unified efforts of every citizen irrespective of party lines. Men proven to be one in heart, sentiment and action will be President Wilson's war pollies and the people of California will support him in his policies. The officer in command in connection with their alleged practice of robbing merchants by representing themselves as agents for a standard brand of silverware.

The game continues as long as there is time for it. If it is approved heartily by officers and public welfare. A few days hence the people of this state must choose a leader. Here again we face a problem far greater than any merely state issue. Our country now demanding the unified efforts of every citizen irrespective of party lines. Men proven to be one in heart, sentiment and action will be President Wilson's war pollies and the people of California will support him in his policies.

BELL AND HIS RECORD.

"His opponent has no record of another kind. There is no comparison. The independent candidate represents a type of officer different from that of California's 'War Governor.' Theodore Bell traveled over this country in 1912 denouncing President Wilson, and his unfair, if not positively disloyal, utterances at that time are still fresh in the public mind. On the question of the federal regulation of the high traffic areas is evidently and absolutely opposed to the President and to a Democratic Congress. In Alameda county we have the plainest evidence of Mr. Bell's ideas of loyalty in his remarkable letter to one Sykes, a seditionist of Berkeley, whose defense Bell solicited for one thousand dollars.

"The voters of Alameda county are overwhelmingly Republican as the primary showed. Governor Stephens is, we are all proud to say, a Republican. It is for us to do our plain and loyal duty and vote for the Republican candidate because in voting for them we are once more pledging our support to our country and our President in the most critical moment of our national life."

COSTS MONEY THESE DAYS TO MISS RABBITS

SHOOTING jackrabbits for market at $3.50 a dozen does not pay these days unless the hunter is a deadly accurate shot, according to men who have the heretofore combined pleasure and profit by killing those denizens of the prairie and selling them to dealers. Shotgun shells have advanced to 5 cents apiece and hunters say they cannot afford to buy more than shots, for if they do they will be in debt to themselves. The hunter pays 10 cents a dozen express for short hauls on the rabbits he kills in addition to 8 per cent to the commission man who handles them for him.

As a result of this condition jackrabbit hunting is unusually scarce in the local markets this week. Many men who shot them for market during past seasons are making more money now working in various industries.

Auto Theft Reach Total of $1,697,050

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Pointing out that automobiles to a total value of over $1,697,050 have been stolen in Southern California in the last three years, the Automobile club of Southern California yesterday appealed to the public to demand heavier sentences for auto thieves. The appeal was made in a statement by Stanislaus Mitchell, secretary.

"There has been too much probation," Mitchell declared. Heavy jail sentences, he continued, will be necessary to discourage the auto stealing industry, which, he said, has reached exaggerated proportions.
